Re: Fastener Packaging Update

Carlisle SynTec Systems' fastener supply has greatly improved, and nearly all materials are readily available. However, fastener packaging has been slower to return to normal inventory levels.

As we work through current inventories of #12 and #15 fasteners, you may receive these fasteners packaged in boxes instead of the standard plastic buckets. Once all current inventory is depleted, fasteners will begin to ship in the plastic buckets again.

Thank you again for your patience, and please contact me should you have any questions.
